LINCHPIN STRATEGIES EXPANDS ITS EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION PRACTICE WITH THE ADDITION OF BRAZELTON TOUCHPOINTS PROJECT

Washington, DC: April 1, 2016 – Linchpin Strategies is pleased to announce that it has expanded its early childhood education policy practice with the addition of Brazelton Touchpoints Project as a new client.

Brazelton Touchpoints Project partners with families of young children and the communities and systems of care that surround them so that all children – whatever their life circumstances, challenges, and resources may be – will be healthy, succeed as early learners and have the opportunity to thrive.

Linchpin Strategies Founder and President, Catriona Macdonald, commented, “For nearly half a century, Dr. T Berry Brazelton has led the field in supporting parents and helping them develop their ability to be their children’s best teachers and advocates. We are proud to represent Touchpoints, and to help expand its strengths-based approach to early childhood development and family preservation.”
